Congratulations on the birth of your baby!

After giving birth, it's important to maintain the healthy habits you practiced while you were pregnant and continue to see your obstetric (OB) healthcare provider postpartum.

We recommend that all women have a EARLY POSTPARTUM VISIT / MATERNAL HEALTH SAFETY CHECK within 2 weeks of giving birth, as well as a routine postpartum visit at approximately 6 weeks after delivery.

WHY IS THIS IMPORTANT TO ME?

We recommend that all women are seen within 2 weeks of giving birth so that their health care provider can check how they are recovering after delivery. Most women give birth recover without problems, but any woman can have complications. Your OB health care provider can check for these potential complications that can occur in the postpartum period and will also assess your recovery and provide support.

WHAT HAPPENS AT MY EARLY POSTPARTUM VISIT?

Your OB provider or clinical team will:

- Check your blood pressure
- Assess for wound or perineum healing
- Assess your postpartum bleeding & appropriate
- Assess your mood and provide support
- Provide family planning/ pregnancy spacing
- Link you to any needed health services or follow-up

HOW DO I SCHEDULE MY EARLY POSTPARTUM VISIT?

Please call your OB provider's office before you come to the hospital after delivery to schedule your early postpartum visit / maternal health safety check within 2 weeks of delivery. You may also want to schedule your postpartum visit. Tell your nurse or provider when your visit is scheduled. If you deliver over a weekend, then please call the office on Monday to schedule.
