

Partnership for Quality

Illinois Perinatal Quality Collaborative (ILPQC), a statewide quality collaborative, developed in 2012, involves all perinatal stakeholders; utilizes data driven, evidence-based practices; improves perinatal quality resulting in improved birth outcomes, improved health for women & infants, and decreased healthcare costs.

The APC's serve as a liaison between ILPQC & hospitals, attend advisory boards and reinforce participation in initiatives

Provide education in the form of a simulation, classroom (in person or virtual) and written resource to support initiatives

Administrative Perinatal Centers (APCs) are among the many partners working to improve quality care through the state-mandated, Regionalized Perinatal System since 1976. The system consists of 10 APCs through the state who supervise assigned hospitals under a letter of agreement while following the perinatal health care code.

Improve maternal and neonatal outcomes
